

DISENTANGLING: THE GEOGRAPHIES OF DIGITAL DISCONNECTION

André Jansson & Paul Adams (Eds.)

Table of contents

Introduction: Rethinking the Disentangling Force of Connective Media
Paul Adams & André Jansson

Part I: Power Geometries of Connectivity

Chapter 1: Disconnection and Reconnection as Resistance to Geosurveillance
David Swanlund

Chapter 2: Locational Technologies in Post-disaster Infrastructure Space: Uneven Access to OpenStreetMap in Post-earthquake Haiti
Mimi Sheller

Chapter 3: Disconnection as Distinction: A Bourdieusian Study of Where People Withdraw from Digital Media
Karin Fast, Johan Lindell & André Jansson

Chapter 4: Digital Disconnection as Othering: Immersion, 'Authenticity' and the Politics of Experience
Neriko Musha Doerr

Part II: (Dis)connected Lives

Chapter 5: Automating Digital Afterlives
Robbie Fordyce, Bjorn Nansen, Michael Arnold, Tamara Kohn & Martin Gibbs

Chapter 6: Senses and Sensors of Sleep: Mediation and Disconnection in Sleep Architectures
Bjorn Nansen, Kate Mannell & Christopher O'Neill

Chapter 7: Digital Ruins: Virtual Worlds as Landscapes of Disconnection
Gonzalo C. Garcia & Vincent Miller

Chapter 8: 'Think on Paper, Share Online': Interrogating the Sense of Slowness and Disconnection in the Rise of Shouzhang in China
Yan Yuan

Part III: Rethinking Disconnection in a Disrupted World

Chapter 9: Disconnect to Reconnect! Self-Help to Regain an Authentic Sense of Space through Digital Detoxing

Gunn Enli & Trine Syvertsen

Chapter 10: Retreat Culture and Therapeutic Disconnection

Pepita Hesselberth

Chapter 11: Networked Intimacies: Pandemic Dis/Connections between Anxiety, Joy, and Pleasure

Jenny Sundén

Chapter 12: Paradoxes of Disconnected Connection

Paul Adams, Steven Hoelscher, Heath Robinson, Vivie Behrens, Olga Lavrenova & Yan Yuan